Who We Are:
The West Virginia Coalition Against Domestic Violence (WVCADV) was incorporated in 1981 with a mission to end personal and institutional violence in the lives of women, children and men. WVCADV works to transform social, cultural, and political attitudes with a focus on strengthening public policy; coordinating statewide education, advocacy, and training; providing technical assistance to member programs; and raising public awareness about violence against women.

The Coalition’s fourteen member programs provide direct services to victims and operate outreach offices throughout the state.

Services We Provided:
Domestic violence programs are a vital resource, providing free and confidential assistance to victims and survivors of domestic violence and their children. Domestic violence advocates have accurate information about domestic violence, understand the civil/criminal legal systems and social services systems, and are familiar with other community resources that may be useful to victims and survivors.

Domestic violence services are available in every county in the state. Specific services vary from one community to another, but most programs offer core services such as:

- Emergency shelter
- Safety planning
- Crisis counseling
- Support group
- Information and referral
- Comprehensive advocacy (such as help in obtaining legal protection, housing, medical care, transportation, language interpretation, etc.)
